Rapid Reds to Challenge Dodgers' Sprinters

THERE WILL be speed to burn when Fred Hutchinson turns this quintet loose on the basepaths this Ruiz and Frank Robinson. Rookie Ruiz led the Pa-—Tommy Harper, Vada Pinson, Pete Rose, Chico } cific Coast League in stolen bases last year.

Speedy Kuiz Gives Cincy's Swifties New Theft Threat

By EARL LAWSON

TAMPA, Fla.

The Reds have corralled an array of speedsters who are enough to make a college track coach drool.

In fact, without too much urging, Manager Fred Hutchinson might be talked into challenging the Dodgers, the National League's self-proclaimed speed kings, to a foot race.

Vada Pinson, Frankie Robinson, Tommy Harper and Pete Rose are the holdover swifties from last year's Reds.

This year, they'll be joined by Chico Ruiz, who has led every league in which he has played in stolen bases the last five years.

The Cuban speedster swiped 50 bases to lead the Pacific Coast League last year. And there was a period of 1 40 days when a leg injury prevented him from attempting a theft.

Pinson was clocked going to first base in 3.3 seconds during his rookie year with the Reds back in 1959. And while he may have slowed down since then, it hasn't been noticeable. During three of the five full seasons he has been playing with the Reds, Pinson has rapped out 200 or more hits. Twice his totals have led the league. And, in those five seasons, not once has he hit fewer than 31 doubles. Twice he led the league.

非 格 申 Pinson Sets Path Pace

Last year, in addition to 37 doubles he pounded out a league high of 14 triples.

Reds, Pinson also has stolen a total of mer when he romped all the way Bristol, the San Diego manager, "that 129 bases. That's an average of 26 home from second base on a tap Ruiz is faster than Cesar Tovar."

per year. Over those five years, his total undoubtedly would have been higher if 12 of 13 steal attempts. And while day. Around the Reds' camp, he's not for the fact that the Reds have there's not much room for improve known as Mighty Mouse. been predominately a power-hitting ment percentage-wise, the Oakland, It's not likely that Tovar will stick club. Robinson doesn't boast Pinson's tremendous speed, but has unusually a chance to study the pitchers. good base-running instincts.

make it. The 51 doubles he socked in But that's only after he has drawn year he stole 88 bases." 1962, tops in the league, stands as a a walk. He stole 13 bases. club record.

second only to Pinson's 27 among Red merchant category. But don't try to League. He batted .329 for Rocky players.

edly scored from first base on doubles. And he had Red fans blinking their eyes in disbelief the night last sum-1

Barefoot Ruiz Zipped Past Sprinters on Track Team

TAMPA, Fla. - While still in high school in Cuba, Chico Ruiz. the rookie Red speedster, passed the athletic field one day on the way home.

"The track team was practicing," said Ruiz, "and I stopped to watch."

The coach, noting Ruiz' interest. invited him to compete against his sprinters.

"I win the race, running in my bare feet," said Ruiz. "That the first time I realize I can run fast.'' back to the mound.

Calif., flash does expect to up his with the Reds this season since last total this season now that he has had year was his first in Triple-A ball.

Rare is the occasion when Robinson of the Year in 1963, has been clocked him to San Diego." goes for the extra base and fails to going to first base in four seconds "You know," said Bristol, "one

And last year, his 26 thefts ranked Reds' Bob Skinner in the speed- in the New York-Pennsylvania convince Red players that the gan- Mount in the Carolina League in 1962 Harper, a rookie last year, repeat- gling, 6-4, 190-pound Skinner can't pick and jumped to the Dallas-Ft. Worth 'em up and lay 'em down with the club in the Pacific Coast League last (CONTINUED ON PAGE 8, COL. 4) best of the speedsters.

Etched in the memory of Red play. the loop with 41 doubles,

Edwards Speedy for Size, Laughs Over Stolen Base

season. The Cincinnati swifties are (left to right)

TAMPA, Fla.—When it comes to catchers, the Reds will match their Johnny Edwards against any first-string backstop in a foot race. Although John is fast for his 6-4 size, he has stolen only two bases during his major league career. He laughs about the first one.

"The count on the hitter was 3-and-1," he said, "but I thought it was 3-and-2. When the next pitch was a ball, I just walked down to second."

ers is the night when Skinner, as a member of the Pirates socked an inleft field at Crosley Field.

And that's quite a feat because the from home plate at the foul line.

the-park homer at the Polo Grounds forget. in New York last season.

Last year, the Dodgers swiped 124 bases to lead the National League. The Reds finished second with 92.

If he can win a regular berth in the lineup, Ruiz could be the man who'll enable the Reds to wrest the base-stealing title from the Dodgers. Ruiz isn't the only rookie speedster in the Reds' camp this spring. "I'm not so sure," said Dave

Tovar, a Venezuelan, stands 5-9 and Last year, Harper was successful in weighs about 155 pounds on a rainy

"And," said Bristol, "it won't make Rose, the National League's Rookie me mad if the Reds decide to send

That was in 1961, when he batted Ordinarily you wouldn't place the .338 for the Reds' Geneva farm club year where he batted .297 and led

Hit to Right Field, Cardenas Ordered

By EARL LAWSON

TAMPA, Fla.

Big Ted Kluszewski, Cincinnati's former home-run king who's down here to tape interviews for his television show back home, strolled by the dugout at Lopez Field.

Leo Cardenas, the Reds' Cuban shortstop, his eyes glowing with envy, surveyed Klu's huge frame.

"Look at his wrists," exclaimed Cardenas with a tone of awe. "Why side-the-park homer off Bill Henry to one of his fingers, it's as big as my Cardenas was exaggerating, of left field fence stands only 324 feet course, but not much. The spindlylegged Cuban weighs about 155 pounds Red shortstop Leo Cardenas isn't after a heavy meal. But for a fellow any Maury Wills when it comes to his size, he can hit a ball quite a circling the bases, but it is a matter piece. This, though, is something the of record that he socked an inside- Reds' brass would just as soon he'd

> The Reds' board of strategy believes that Cardenas' tendency to attempt to pull all pitches to left field is the big reason why he dipped from .294 in 1962 to .235 last year.

> Leo Off to Good Start So this spring they're attempting a "selling job" on him, the idea being to convince him that he should hit > the ball to right field more. The task figured to be a little easier after Cardenas rapped out three straight hits, all to the right of second, in the Reds' second Grapefruit League outing of the spring.

> "I've been on Leo's back constantly to go to right field more," said Dick Sisler, the Reds' batting coach.

> Sisler's getting help, too, from his fellow coach, Johnny Temple. "Cardenas," pointed out Temple,

> "has a good right field stroke. I asked him whether he wanted to be a .290 batter hitting to right or a .230 batter hitting to left. There can be only one answer to that."

> If Cardenas is looking for someone to teach him how to go to right field with a pitch, he can't ask for a better instructor than Temple.

The former star Red second base-

Salerno Bounces Hutch ---Then Clears Reds' Bench

TAMPA, Fla. - Reggie Otero, the Reds' Cuban coach, was needling Fred Hutchinson.

"I thought you were going to behave this season," ribbed Otero. "All I said was, 'Keep your mind on your umpiring," protested the Red manager.

This was after Hutch was thumbed from the Red-Twin game, March 16, at Orlando, Fla., in the fifth inning by American League Umpire Al Salerno.

Shortly after chasing Hutch, Salerno gave John Flavin, the Reds' 21-year-old rookie lefty, the heave-ho.

It was then that Hutch argued loud and long.

"It was about how much time Larry Dovel was going to get to warm up," explained Hutch. "I said he wasn't going to start pitching until we said he was ready."

Dovel, a 24-year-old rookie righthander, was the mound replacement for Flavin after he was banished by Salerno.

Minutes after Dovel began pitching, Salerno ordered all Red players not in the game to leave the bench and go to the bull pen.

Then, in the top of the sixth inning, he chased Johnny Temple out of the first-base coaching box.

"Salerno kept looking into the dugout," said Otero, "and all Johnny said was, 'Leave the guys alone.' ''

"He (Salerno) just had a bad day," remarked Hutch none too sympathetically.

Hutch's brother, Dr. William Hutchinson of Seattle, who was here visiting the Red manager, watched the game from a seat near the dugout. Dr. Hutchinson supervised treatment of Fred's chest condition recently.

THE SPORTING NEWS, MARCH 28, 1964

the first of the f